WIDOW AND DAUGHTER GET POST'S MILLIONS.

Washington.—The will of Charles W. Post, of Battle Creek, Mich., who died at Santa Barbara, Cal., on May 9, filed here for probate, leaves the bulk of his estate estimated at $20,000,000 to the widow, Mrs. Lelia Y. Post, and a daughter, Marjorie Post Close.

The literacy test is one of the unimportant things. Most of the trouble is brewed by those who can read and write.

The House of Commons passed the Home Rule Bill, with a majority of seventy-seven, and the measure now will become law, whether the lords assent or not.

COL. ROOSEVELT TO MAKE VISIT AT WHITE HOUSE.

Washington, May 25.—Col. Roosevelt will be received by President Wilson at the White House tomorrow afternoon. The President invited the Colonel to lunch with him but Mr. Roosevelt found it impossible to reach Washington in time. He sent word, however, he would be delighted to call on the President during the afternoon.

A man values the opportunity to travel chiefly for the reason that it gives him something to brag about.

REPUBLICANS WANT TO SEE ROOSEVELT.

New York, May 25.—The Sun Sunday morning says a definite move by Republicans in congress to get former President Roosevelt back in the party fold will be made Tuesday, when he will address the National Geographical Society in Washington.

Mr. Roosevelt will be asked to make a speech soon setting forth the weakness of the Wilson administration so as to unite the Republican and Progressive forces against the common enemy.

The Republican spokesmen also will try to convince Mr. Roosevelt that the Progressive party is dwindling in numbers and will give the vote in the Pennsylvania primaries as an instance. It is said that the proposed overtures to Mr. Roosevelt have received the approval of conservative Republicans in congress.

LOVE AND MARRIAGE.

With my whole soul, and without the least reservation, I solemnly affirm, that love marriages, turn out the best for the individual and the race, says Ellen Key in the June Strand. Naturally only on the two conditions—that the love was indeed love and no sentimental flirtation, and that the lovers have not been blind to the welfare of possible offspring.

What real love is every English reading person can learn in Mrs. Browning's "Sonnets from the Portuguese." What a young couple must consider before becoming parents they can learn in Dr. Saleeby's books. Since I was a child of seven—and for a whole winter carried in my pocket a love-epic by a great Swedish poet—I have known not only that love was the master-passion of life, but that a marriage without it was a bad action. In later years I have become more and more persuaded that in some mysterious way the new generation is benefited by parents who love each other. The race-institut would not have developed itself to glorious love, and love would not have become the highest happiness of the individual, if this feeling had gone against the highest purpose of the race-institut! Further scientific research will, I believe, be able to prove the hypothesis—that love of the parents furthers the offspring. Against Mme. Waddington's opinion—that the French custom of "arranged" marriages is on the whole better—I can say riages become more and more scarce; that not a few young men now marry early and for love; and that many young girls are firmly resolved only to marry for love!

The arranged marriage in nine cases out of ten has had unfaithfulness as complement; the "lover" and the "mistress" having satisfied the love passion, marriage was a prosaic comradeship, wherein one or two children constituted the only bond of sympathy, while the secret love was poetical and unfruitful. Well I know that many arranged marriages are happy through esteem and affection. But it is a happiness on a lower scale.

The passionate sufferings, possible in a love marriage, do not occur; no heart is broken, because there was no heart in the "arrangement." But only a year of married love is bliss, and to have had than half a century of calm content!

WEEKLY SPORT LETTER.

(By C. H. ZUBER.)

Cincinnati, May 26.
Base ball dope is running around with a pair of black eyes and a badly battered nose these days. Recent performances by the Cincinnati, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston teams are responsible for this mutilated appearance of the base ball form sheet. In the case of Cincinnati the dope was that by this time the team would be mired hopelessly in last place; with the other three it was predicted that they would be fighting for the flag. And are they? They are—soot. There's nothing mysterious about this reversal of the dope, smiths' prophecies. The simple answer is that the Reds have developed a better class of youngsters and a more spirited plan of play than was expected of them, while the other teams have failed to come to the mark that the hot-stove analysis of the winter months produced.

With the exception of the Phillies, the Reds have fought their first round of the season with the Eastern teams. An even split with the New Yorks, four straight from Boston and three out of four from Brooklyn—a total of nine victories in twelve games played up to and including that of Sunday—is the record against the first three easterners to visit here. This is a much better showing than the team has made in years and has given the followers more confidence in the Herzog aggregation than they possessed in either O'Day's bunch or the Tinker machine in seasons past. That word "machine" fits the Reds to a nicety, for that's just how they are working. True, the bearings require a little more lubricating and grinding before there is no jar perceptible; but it's rapidly getting that smoothness that makes for consistent performances—and a place in the first division.

A strong play is being made over in Germany for a series of contests for women in the Olympic games to be held in Berlin in 1916. The claim is made that several countries, including Germany, England and the Scandinavian nations, are developing a superior class of women athletes, and that there is no reason why they shouldn't compete among themselves in these world's events. As yet no expressions on the subject have been received from the women of the United States; but it is safe to say that if the games are so arranged, Uncle Sam's fair nieces will be there to show the others how real athletics look.

If John Rockefeller had it to do over again he probably would become a champion pugilist, instead of slaving along to acquire billions by the oil route. And why shouldn't he, when Willie Ritchie, the American lightweight, quotes one battle for the world's championship at $50,000, win or lose. That is the price the U. S. boy has set for his proposed appearance with Freddie Walsh, the English champ, for the latter part of June—And which has NOT been concurred in by the London sporting club that desires to stage the bout. Ritchie declares that he can get $20,000 for a no-decision contest with Ad Wolgast and $10,000 for a similar bout with Duffy, hence his big demand for a fight in which his title is at stake. And maybe he'll get it.

More horses have been nominated for the fast trotting classes this year—the 2:06; 2:08 and 2:09 events—than ever before, showing that the innovation adopted last year of getting away from the 2:12 trots as high marks appeals to horsemen and is certain to bring about more interest than ever before to harness racing.

When Coffee Gets You

The experience will be like that of thousands who have ignored the fact that coffee contains a habit-forming drug, caffeine—about 2½ grains to the ordinary cup.

Some say, "Coffee don't hurt me," and seem to get on with it for a time. But there are few persons who can use coffee as a routine daily beverage and not sometime feel its effects—headache, nervousness, indigestion, biliousness, sleeplessness, heart trouble, or some other discomfort.

Thousands have found relief by stopping coffee and using

POSTUM

A delicious table beverage made only from whole wheat and a small per cent of molasses. POSTUM contains the nourishment of the grain, including the essential mineral salts (phosphate of potash, etc.), but is positively free from the drug, caffeine, or any other harmful substance.

Postum now comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled—15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble form—requires no boiling—30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

There's a mighty army of POSTUM users—the number is steadily growing—and

"There's a Reason"

sell POSTUM.

Noted Authority on Immigration to Lecture Here During the Chautauqua

DR. EDWARD A. STEINER.

BORN in Austria, educated in Bohemia, Germany and Russia and at present the head of the department of Applied Christianity in a college is the record of Dr. Edward A. Steiner. He is an author, educator and lecturer—a man with a message. Dr. Steiner has studied first hand the subjects on which he lectures, and his appearance here during Chautauqua week will be one of the program's most beneficial features. He is epigrammatic and witty. Social inconsistencies and racial hypocrisies vanish before his attack. Among the many books written by Dr. Steiner are "The Trail of the Immigrant," "Tolstoid the Man," "The Mediator" and "The Parable of the Cherries." He is a foremost authority on immigration.

EGGS FROM CHINA

Not China Eggs—Putting Crimp In Product of the Great American Hen.

Washington, May 26.—Since, under the Democratic tariff law, Chinese are shipping eggs into this country to compete with the American farmer, great interest has been manifested in the activity among Chinese egg shippers.

The egg business in China has taken on such activity under the Democratic tariff law that United States Consuls are making reports on it to the United States Government. Albert W. Pontius, American Consul at Nanking, reports officially that a big egg house at Nanking is about to be completed so as to begin operations this year. He says that Chinese eggs are either sold in open market or collected by interior agents and delivered to the house or to the exporter.

The important egg producing district of China, he reports, comprises the Yellow River and the Yangtze River Provinces and that the season of greatest production is from February to May. He says there is a local dedicated egg factory at Nanking which purchases eggs much below the market price. He says this factory paid from eight to ten cents a dozen last October.

For local shipping, Mr. Pontius reports that eggs are packed in bamboo crates with saw-dust or straw. He says they are canned at Nanking and Hankow by a foreign corporation and shipped to Europe. He says he is informed that all grades of eggs and all kinds of domesticated fowls are used for purpose. Refrigeration service, he says, can be obtained from China to the United States. The Hankow factory mentioned above keeps in operation through the year by handling game, poultry, feathers, beans and skins.

The American Consul reports that workmen in these egg concerns receive ten cents a day, thus making it clear how the Chinese are able to ship eggs to America and compete with American farms.

Walter Elam, 60 years old, was the first victim of the year from hot weather. He died at Pikeville shortly after suffering from a sunstroke.

An estate valued at nearly $2,000,000 is disposed of largely to a wide range of charities by the will of Mrs. Elizabeth Shippen, of Philadelphia.

TAKE THIS MAN'S ADVICE

Try the Great Kidney Remedy.

It always gives me pleasure to recommend anything that is right and so I feel it my duty to herald the praises of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

For years I was troubled with Kidney disease and it was so intense that I was bedridden for days at a time. I gave up all hope and doctors for miles around gave me no help. Incidentally I tried several patent remedies and at last tried Swamp-Root. From the first it gave me relief and it was no time before I was able to be up and around and now I am perfectly well and able to work as I used to before my terrible sickness.

So now let me thank you for your wonderful discovery and take this opportunity to recommend it to all who suffer from kidney troubles.

Yours very truly,

WALTER SHIVER,

Hope, Ark.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 25th day of March, 1912.
